

Read the poems below or ask an adult to read them to you. Draw a picture for ONE of them in your book or on some plain paper. How imaginative can you be? Add lots of colour! Use felt tips, colouring pencils, paint...

Who's There?

If you hear a dinosaur
Knocking loudly on your door,
Through the keyhole firmly say,
"Nobody is home today."
If the bell should start to ring,
Tell the beast, "No visiting."
If you see there's more than one,
Turn around and start to run.

Walking through the Jungle

Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
A lion roaring at me.

Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
A monkey laughing at me.

Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
A slippery snake hissing at me.

Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
Walking through the jungle, what did I see?
A crocodile sleeping peacefully.
