

A brand-new island!

A new island has appeared in the world that you can name! Give this new place a name, design a flag and draw a map to show its features (think about whether it could have mountains, rivers, deserts, forests...which animals might live there? What might the houses look like there?) Draw some pictures of it and colour it on paper to stick into your book. You can present it in any way you want. If you would prefer to make a model then please do and send photos to Mrs Thomson for me to see!
