

Good morning Amber class.

We hope you are all well rested and had a good weekend. Please make sure to get some physical exercise and fresh air at some point today. We recommend having a run around outside mid-morning, just like we would at school and then an hour break around lunchtime. Have a short rest between doing the maths and the English work to give yourself a brain break. It is up to you whether you do maths first or English first. If you would like feedback on your maths and English work, it needs to be submitted on Microsoft Teams or emailed in by 12 noon. If you would like feedback on your topic work, it needs to be submitted on Microsoft Teams or emailed in by 3pm.

This is the work I (Miss Fudge) would like you to do today:

Maths- you will be carrying on the work we have been doing on addition and subtraction. Today's lesson is looking at patterns, noticing what is the same between different sums. Watch the video first and then work on the questions.

English- you will be doing some reading work, just like you would with Miss Fudge on Mondays and Tuesdays. The text you are going to read today is all about magnets- Mrs Kite is going to be starting a new science topic with you about forces and magnets, so this will give you a head start! Read the text first- your mum/dad/older brothers or sisters/any other adult can help you to read the text- then answer the questions.

Topic- today you will have a PSHE lesson. There will be a PowerPoint for you to read through or for your mum/dad/older brother or sister/any other adult to read to you. Then there is an activity for you to do.

I (Miss Fudge) will be available on Microsoft Teams and via email today if you need any help during the school day. I will try to get back to you as soon as I possibly can so please be patient.

Lastly, please enjoy yourselves and try your very best, as we know you always do. And please don't worry- we know it's very different doing work at home instead of in the classroom. If you need help, make sure you ask someone. You can still go on TT Rockstars and the website <https://www.topmarks.co.uk/maths-games> has some good maths games for you to try. Please also try to read for at least 10 minutes every day. This could be to yourself, mum, dad, brother, sister, even the dog! You can read any books you have at home as well as your school reading book. You could even try writing a story of your own! Or find a picture and make a story to go with it!

Have a good day. I look forward to seeing how you get on with your work!

Miss Fudge and Mrs Smith 😊
